The Colonel's Latest Drive

The New York Evening Sun, which has been traditionally an anti-Roosevelt paper and an open admirer of Justice Hughes, prints the following editorial:

Once again the veering weathercock of national politics points in the direction of Theodore Roosevelt. Who can wonder? The frank courage and patriotic wisdom of his great Detroit speech put to shame the hesitations and the reticences of his competitors. When politicians go into the silence on the eve of the presidential election they can hardly expect great armies of voters to follow them with enthusiastic shouts, nor yet remain on the misty outside waiting for them to match out a thought or a conviction. There is a kind of preparedness which always attracts "the citizenry." It is that shown by the man who has definite and concrete views on the problems of the day, who is convinced in his own soul, can give reasons for the faith that is in him and is ready to lead in what he considers the good cause. He appeals to the minds of the masses, stimulates their imagination and arouses their admiration. Out of these elements are born faith in him, confidence in his leadership and enthusiasm for his personality. Thus the colonel has declared himself on the one great question of the hour with patriotic purpose, historic foundation, logical argument and transparent earnestness. In a breath the wavering and dumb tribe of Burtons, Fairbankses and Cummingses, who either stand nowhere or dare not say where they stand, begin to look like impossibilities.

The Detroit speech may almost be called an epoch-making utterance, and it is not surprising that out of the sensation which it has created comes to new movement to force the nomination of Colonel Roosevelt. The committee headed by George von L. Meyer makes a dramatic entrance into the political arena at a moment of popular excitement and enthusiasm, and it would be rash to prophesy any limit to its effort short of success. It is quite certain that this new move cannot be stemmed by pussy-footing of any kind. The people have had a taste of real discussion of the subject which occupies every mind and we believe their appetite has been whetted for more. Either Colonel Roosevelt's demand for national preparedness must be accepted as a universal standard for candidates or some one as convinced, as well informed, as logical, as patriotic and as much in earnest as he must come forward with an answering pronouncement of equal force, must prove that the country does not need a military awakening and that pacifism is the true principle of American safety and honor for all time to come.

The followers of Justice Hughes, who seems today more than ever the only man in the field who can contend in the lists on favorable terms with the colonel, have apparently taken alarm at the new conditions created by the colonel's speech. We

40,000 VOICES

And Many are the Voices of Clarksborg People.

Forty thousand voices — What a grand chorus! And that's the number of American men and women, who are publicly praising Doan's Kidney Pills for relief from backache, kidney and bladder ills. They say it to friends. They tell it in the home papers. Clarksborg people are in this chorus.

Here's a Clarksborg case: Mrs. L. B. Dunnington, 119 First street, Clarksborg, says: "The first I noticed of kidney trouble was when I began to suffer from dull, dragging pains across the small of my back. They got more severe every day when I began to have dizzy and nervous spells. It hurt me to straighten after stooping and the kidney secretions annoyed me, too. Doan's Kidney Pills soon brought me relief. The pain, dizziness and nervousness left me and my kidneys became normal." Price 50c at all dealers. Don't slip! learn from several morning newspapers that they have determined to "smoke the justice out." It is the only way, but we trust the process is not to be limited to an inquiry as to whether he will accept the nomination if it be offered to him. This question appears to us as superfluous as it is inadequate. Mr. Hughes has never said he would refuse the nomination. He has carefully and studiously avoided saying so, although he has most honorably and in complete good faith declined to be a candidate for the nomination. The fact is, refusal of the nomination is unthinkable. Mr. Hughes, if nominated, will accept.

No Excuse For It

Eczema Has a Terrible Enemy in Prima-Cura.

If you continue to endure eczema there is no excuse for you. Get a bottle of PRIMA-CURA for a quarter. You'll be so agreeably surprised by morning that you will be singing "PRIMA-CURA." Smarts like the deuce, but what's the difference if you can kiss your trouble goodbye. Since 1898 PRIMA-CURA has been the "First Aid" against Eczema. Most any drug store 25 or 50 cent size—or by parcel post through the West Virginia Distributing Office, The Prima-Cura Company, Parkersburg, W. Va. A trial bottle for 35c (in coin or stamps) postpaid. A powerful antiseptic—an essential household remedy.—Advertisement.

But what the public wants to know is whether Justice Hughes is the man for the nomination in the present crisis. They want to know where he stands on the great questions of the day, especially on the supreme one which Colonel Roosevelt has so emphasized. They know Mr. Hughes very well as a man and they esteem him in many respects more than Colonel Roosevelt. His sobriety, thought and temperance of utterance, his rigidity of principle and straightforwardness of action are highly prized qualities, which are worth to him many thousands of suffrages and would, indeed, insure his triumph if the people assured that the views, the policies which he would support were those which are vital to the nation at the present time. The question is not whether Mr. Hughes is worthy in a general sense, but whether he is wise in a particular field. Satisfy the voters on this point and not even the colonel can stand against him.

But the country has no light upon his attitude. He has not spoken a word, and his friends either have no light to give or are restrained from giving it. To us, it seems most unfortunate that perhaps the most suitable man they could turn to in their emergency is so veiled in mystery as to his most essential principles that voters are deprived of the opportunity of deciding rationally upon his availability. Can the people be reasonably asked to pick a president in the dark?

The new strength which Colonel Roosevelt exhibits today is, as between him and Justice Hughes, almost altogether the outcome of the latter's persistent shyness in revealing his opinions, and if in the long run the colonel becomes the Republ-can nominee and the next president, the future historian will have small difficulty in figuring out the reason for his victory.

The Boy is Father to the Man

Old sayings like this are fraught with the most important meaning. And what will add the expectation mother in conserving her health, her strength, her mental repose and the absence of venereal diseases is a subject of vast moment. Among the recognized helps is a splendid remedy known as "Mother's Friend." Applied to the muscles it sinks in deeply to make them firm and pliant, it thus lifts the strain on ligaments that produce pain, it lightens the burden on the nervous system, induces calm, restful nights of health-giving sleep and makes the days sunny and happy. Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" of any druggist and you will then realize why it has been considered true to its name in our best homes through three generations. It is perfectly harmless but so effective that once used it is recommended to all expectant mothers by those who went through the ordeal with surprising ease. By writing to Bradfield Regulator Co., 715 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., you can have a free copy of a wonderful book that unfolds those things which all expectant mothers delight to read. Write today. It is mailed free. Among its features are an explanation of the remedy's action, the first pulsations, preface to necessities, date of expectancy, how to be comfortable, and a great variety of topics all bearing upon the one subject of expectant motherhood. Then there are many letters which describe actual experiences, making of it a guide book of great value. Don't fail to write for this book.
